

A detailed map of Wrocław, Poland, and its surrounding regions. The city of Wrocław is centrally located, with the Odra river flowing through it. Major roads are shown in yellow, and various districts and suburbs are labeled. A red circle highlights the location of Czerlica, which is situated to the east of the city center, near the border with the Lower Silesian Voivodeship. The map includes numerous place names, road numbers, and symbols for airports and public transport.
